MILKY WAY

GOVERNMENT PRESSURE INTIMIDATING VENDORS

"Gangster" Tactics Applied

Provincial department of agriculture is intimidating customers of Milky Way Dairy Ltd., reports Henry Robinson, of the company.

On Tuesday morning Peter Regehr, dairy inspector of the department of agriculture, called on the dairy and stated that the company would be prosecuted if they continued to use 64-ounce cartons prohibited under a new order-in-council. Asked if the warning could be in writing, Mr. Regehr at first agreed to notify the dairy by registered mail. Later, states Mr. Robinson, he hesitated and insisted that it was purely a "verbal warning".

On Wednesday Mr. Robinson learned that the department of agriculture officials had called on his customers to warn them they could be prosecuted for selling the milk.

"The minister is fearful of bringing a case to court," Mr. Robinson told The Review. "He is a coward because he knows that his law would not hold up in court."

The dairy company is concerned because the directors fear that the government plans to break them by intimidation to avoid bringing a case to court. "We will defy the government and we plan to continue to operate illegally in the hope that the government will prosecute," said the dairyman.

The dairy is in the position of a company threatened by gangsters, said a local supplier, but "in this case the government is the gangster".

Mothers' March Here At End Of Week States Plaschko

A total of $325,000 is the objective of this year's Kinsmen-sponsored Mothers' March to be held throughout B.C. in January.

This amount is required to continue the comprehensive program of research, prevention, education and treatment services of the Kinsmen-sponsored B.C. Foundation for Child Care, Poliomyelitis and Rehabilitation.

APPOINTED

SIDNEY MAN ENGINEER FOR SIDNEY

First engineer to be appointed to the new provincial government ferries is O. H. Henriksen, of Sidney. Mr. Henriksen has been engaged by the ferry service as chief engineer aboard M.V. Sidney.

The vessel will be based at Swartz Bay and will permit Mr. Henriksen to assume permanent residence with his family in Sidney after 6½ years on the west coast.

The new chief engineer was previously sailing in the Northland Navigation Company's Tahsis Prince, in the same capacity.

He assumed his new duties on January 20.

No Skaters Under 12 On Sunday

Concerned with the safety of the smaller children SANSCHA officials have announced that from now on Sunday roller skating must be restricted to those 12 years of age and over.

More than 100 skaters were present at SANSCHA Hall on Sunday, and it was agreed that it is far too dangerous for the younger skaters.

Many children have been attending with their parents on Sundays, and while parents are welcome to accompany the children at their sessions on Saturday afternoons, the under-12 group will not be admitted on Sundays.

Ground work is being laid for an advanced figure skating club, with the defunct Victoria club being revived and including the local skaters.

Island Seeks Special Rates On Mainland Transportation

Saturna Islanders are pressing for a special rate on the new provincial government ferry.

At a meeting of the Saturna Island Community Club on Saturday, Jan. 16, the members unanimously endorsed a resolution calling for a special rate for islanders using the ferries when they are operating out of Swartz Bay. The members want a concession offering an inclusive fare from the island aboard the Cy Peck and the new ferry. This would enable them to travel to the mainland for the same rate as a resident of Vancouver Island.

The society feels that the plea is justified on the grounds that the islanders are, in fact, closer to Vancouver than is Swartz Bay. As the ferries will not be calling at the islands, which they will pass en route to Vancouver, members felt

To Form Athletic Group

Residents interested in recreational activities who would like to take part in the proposed Sidney and District Athletic Association are invited to attend a public meeting at SANSCHA Hall on Thursday, Jan. 28, at 7:30 p.m.

Baseball, basketball, badminton, hockey, archery, physical training, keep-fit, boxing and chess, are a few of the items to be discussed.

Island Airman Promoted

Squadron Leader John E. Crofton, of Ganges, has recently been promoted to that rank. He is seen above with Mrs. Crofton, the former Miss Marie White, of Victoria. The son of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. D. G. Crofton, of Harbour House, Ganges, Sqdn. Ldr. Crofton is a native son of Ganges and attended school there until 1930, when his parents moved to Victoria. He attended Glen Lyon school and Oak Bay high school. He enlisted in the air force in 1943 and served as Sergeant-air gunner from 1943 until 1945. He was later commissioned. The Salt Spring Island airman attended U.B.C. in 1945 and graduated in arts. Posted to White Horse, Y.T., he later spent six years in Europe. Sqdn. Ldr. Crofton makes his home with his wife and three children in Ottawa.

Ratepayers To Discuss New School By-law On Friday

Item of importance to all property owners will be discussed Friday evening at Hotel Sidney.

The forthcoming school referendum, which will be presented next month, will be the main item on the agenda when the Sidney Ratepayers Association hold their annual meeting and election of officers. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock.

The school building by-law, which went down to defeat in December, will again be put before the property owners in February. In the interim, some $11,000 has been added to the original figure of $799,000.

Officials of School District 63 have assured the association that at least one member of the school board will be in attendance to outline the by-law in general and to answer questions. An invitation is extended to all Sidney property owners and a large attendance is expected.

They Want Money Back For Land

At a special meeting on Tuesday night, Jan. 26, Sidney village council discussed the request of a Calgary firm for the return of money deposited in respect of a piece of land.

Terminal Facilities Ltd., Calgary, deposited $600 on property situated on Fifth St. and Ocean Ave., adjacent to the federal government's new parking lot. Since the provincial government's ferry landing was changed from Sidney to Swartz Bay, the company is no longer interested in the property and has requested the return of its $600, plus the money spent on clearing the land.

Sidney council objected to paying back the money spent on clearing, or being left to pay legal costs involved in the original transaction. They feel that these latter costs should be deducted from the $600.

Airborne Or Walking, They Are Considered By Trustees

Travelling methods of ratepayers in Saanich School District were analyzed tersely by a trustee of Saanich School District on Monday evening.

The school board was discussing location of polls for the school building referendum next month.

"Trustees decided that no advantage would be gained by locating a poll in the Keating valley area."

"Everyone there is airborne unless he gets a flat," quipped Capt. J. H. Rowland.

Of Sidney village the opposite view was taken. A polling station was essential.

"There are more people afoot in

Squadron To Gain Its Own Band Here

Squadron band is already under training by Sidney Kinsmen Air Cadet Squadron, instructor is Roger Montague, of Victoria, professional musician who has already trained a similar band in the Victoria Air Cadet Squadron.

The band has a number of instruments already in its possession.

Cost of the band and its equipment will be borne by the sponsoring civilian committee of Sidney Kinsmen Club.

Garibaldi Proves Well Known Here

Italian patrol proved better known last week than a British Columbia minister. T. R. Tave was introduced to Sidney Rotary Club as "Garibaldi's pilot". Mr. Tave is a pilot with P.W.A. and has flown the highways minister through every part of the province.

"Did you say Garibaldi?" asked Rev. F. C. Vauzban-Birch, who recently came here from the prairies.

Polls To Be Opened Feb. 27 In Saanich District

Polls will open again in Saanich School District on Saturday, Feb. 27, to permit ratepayers to cast their ballots on the school building referendum which was rejected in December.

The referendum has been modified slightly in the meantime. Total sum sought for building purposes is $810,000. The original figure was $799,000. Additional $11,000 is intended for the provision of equipment in existent schools.

Returning officer will be Gordon Hayward, municipal clerk of Saanich and polls will be located at schools within the district.

ISLANDERS CALL FOR FERRY SERVICE BY GOVERNMENT

—50-Car Ferry Vessel

Stabilization of Gulf Islands transportation is urged in a brief recently submitted to Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi by the Pender Island Chamber of Commerce. The brief deals with a government-owned and operated ferry service between Swartz Bay and Tsawwassen, calling at Beaver Point, on Salt Spring, Pender, Mayne, and Galiano, en route.

The submission asks for a 50- or 60-car ferry, accommodating approximately 350 passengers, with residents' rates comparable to those on other government-owned and operated inter-island ferries. The chamber feels that such a service would not only settle islanders' transportation problems, but prove a popular service for tourists, and for islanders' patrons living in Victoria and Vancouver.

The ten-point brief suggests that this boat would carry residents to the Saanich Peninsula, and to the mainland; carry tourists from either direction, and return; build up the economy of the islands; bring permanence to islanders' transportation, and terminate the problems constantly arising in the present service.

DOUBLE MARKETS

Such a ferry would double islanders' markets for produce; do away with the present subsidized service around the islands; and pave the way for daily mail service, so necessary in the development of a district.

The chamber feels that such a service would greatly enhance the whole Gulf Islands area as a tourist attraction.

By the construction of a short bridge from Saturna Island to Samuel Island, at Boat Pass, and with a one-man cable ferry from Samuel to Mayne Island, Saturna residents, and visitors, would have the same transportation as the outer islands, and no farther from the wharf at Mayne than South Pender residents are from the ferry wharf at Port Washington.

Copies of the brief have now been mailed to organizations on the islands concerned, seeking endorsement.

Barrier Posts

Barrier posts are to be erected at North Saanich high school to prevent the cars from being driven over the playing field.

Trustees of Saanich School District approved the move after hearing a complaint of damage to the fields from Principal D. E. Breckenridge.

"A LITTLE STUPID" Government Must Act

"The government seems to be a little stupid in waking up to the fact that there will have to be evolved some different means of raising finances for the schools."

Reeve H. R. Brown was outspoken when he spoke at Wednesday evening meeting of Sidney Rotary Club.

The chief magistrate of Central Saanich municipality was making an observation in connection with the address to the club by School Superintendent F. A. McLellan.

"As reeve, I know where the taxes

Ratepayers of Saanich School District were betrayed by the trustees of the school district when the last school building referendum was presented three years ago.

Prior to the presentation of the last by-law ratepayers had inquired as to what the money would be used for. They had been assured that it would be used only for needed classroom space. When it passed the money was not used for accommodation for pupils, it was spent on "auditorium construction and other things like that."

George L. Baal, retired Sidney druggist and a former village councillor told Sidney Rotary Club last Wednesday evening that the new referendum has still refused because ratepayers have recalled the results of the last one.

Rotarians heard an address by Superintendent of Schools F. A. McLellan on the problems arising from the recent by-law failure.

Mr. McLellan spoke of the reasons for segregation of junior high school students and the effects of the shift system on education generally.

Mr. Baal's comments were made during the question period.

The former village commissioner was supported by B. B. Sterne.

"You are going to have quite a job convincing people they are getting the classrooms they need after giving them auditoriums last time," he said.

Mr. Sterne recalled that after the last by-law had been rejected the ratepayers were assured that its modified form included nothing but bare essentials. On the first presentation there had been a general feeling that it included too many things, which were not needed, he recalled.

"On its second presentation we understood that many of the things we objected to had been eliminated and we were getting classrooms," he added. That he had been misled was his own fault, admitted the North Saanich garage operator.

L. H. Quebec, proprietor of Sidney Hotel, endorsed both views.

"Right in our district are cook stoves better than the stoves in 50 per cent of local homes," he asserted.

First rate equipment is not necessarily indicative of extensive learning, Mr. Quebec warned his fellow Rotarians.

"They don't learn to cook any better by pressing a button," he commented.

Mr. Quebec drew a parallel between schools and driving.

"The driver who learns on a manual shift and changes to automatic is a better driver than the one who trains on an automatic shift," he observed.

The hotelier explained that his daughter attended a private school. The equipment in home economics classes was poor by comparison with the public schools, but the product of the school was invariably high, he stated.

Mr. McLellan replied that the private school was educating a select

MAIL SERVICE IMPROVES IN 1960

Reader Checks Letters From Vancouver

Mail service from Vancouver is steadily improving.

During the month of December it had reached an all-time low, a reader in that city reports. He mailed a letter to Sidney on December 11. It was received here on December 19. A letter mailed from Vancouver to Sidney was re-addressed by the post office here. It had originally left Vancouver on December 11. It finally reached its destination in the mainland city on January 11.

Final problem was a letter mailed from Vancouver to Sidney on January 6. On January 12 it had yet to be received.

The reader whose mail had proved too perplexing wrote to The Review at that time and announced his intention of mailing a series of letters at a fixed time each day. The letters were received at the newspaper office with near-monotony regularity. Only on one occasion did the sequence break badly and that was during a week-end.

In every instance, except on Sunday, Jan. 17, the letters were mailed at 5:30 p.m. In every instance on time or late, they reached the office in Sidney in the morning's mail.

EXCELLENT SERVICE

First showed excellent service. A letter mailed on January 14 arrived in Sidney on the morning of the following day. Then came a sharp set-back. A letter mailed on Friday, Jan. 15, reached Sidney on January 18. The letter mailed on Saturday came here in the same mail. The letter mailed in Vancouver on Sunday evening, Jan. 17, arrived here on Tuesday morning. It was accompanied by another, mailed on the Monday evening. Tuesday's letter was duly in the mail on Wednesday morning. Wednesday's came here on Thursday and the remainder kept close pace with the calendar.

Thus, of nine letters mailed, seven reached here on time. The delays occurred over the week-end, when it proved that a Vancouver resident eager to keep his Sidney acquaintance informed of his actions would do well to hold his mail for one day, while if he hastens to run out to catch the mail on Sunday evening he would be better employed sitting in front of his fire.

The sequence pointed up the fact that the service in 1960 is better than it was in 1959.

Rotary Anns Hold Monthly Meeting

On Thursday evening, the Rotary Anns held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. E. Slegg, Second St., with Mrs. C. Johnson presiding. An interesting letter was received from a former member, Mrs. H.

Tobin, Evanston, Ill., also letters acknowledging donations were read. As two members were on vacation and due to illness others were unable to attend, matters under discussion are being held over until the next meeting, which is to be at the home of Mrs. F. Derry, Beaufort Road.

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL EXTOLLS VALUE OF NEW AUTOMATIC READING MACHINE

"Reading," said Mr. Darks, "is still the most serious problem in the schools."

Harold Darks demonstrated the use of the Controlled Reading Machine at the regular meeting of the Sidney P.T.A. last week.

"Remedial work of all types has been tried, but even with continued efforts they can only go so far," he said, in speaking of the largest problem group, that of the low average boys.

This machine, he explained, has been developed with a new concept of the problem. With the use of special eye cameras, it has been proven that the average eye span (the number of words seen at one glance) is only four-tenths of a normal word at the grade one level, and only one-and-a-third words at college age. Thus the question of phrase reading versus phonics has been answered, he averred.

"The regression total is staggering," he pointed out.

At the grade 6 level the regression, or glancing back is an average of 105 times per 100 words, with the eye actually stopping about 23 times per line.

This machine prevents the eye from going back. Throwing one line at a time on a screen, only one word is illuminated and the light immediately moves on. The speed is controlled and by starting slowly it can gradually be built up. Asked if this eliminated the regular reading program, Mr. Darks said, "No, this is extra, and is used only to improve, not to teach reading."

After each reading session, tests are given on what has been read, and it has been shown that the faster the reading, the greater the understanding.

"Reading rates for grade 6 were 77 words per minute for the lowest student, standard at 250 and the highest at 300. Now the lowest is 175 with comprehension tests showing 64 per cent, and the highest is now 350 with testing at 87 per cent."

Mr. Darks' comment that he always has full concentration of his students was evident in the silence as P.T.A. members attempted to keep up with the moving light as the speed was increased. If the mind strayed for even an instant, the word or the line was gone.

Prior to the commencement of the meeting, Mrs. D. G. Beaumont and L. H. Cox, of the Saanich Peninsula Parent-Teacher Council spoke to the group about the work of the council. Whereas representatives to the council should number about 35, only five or six have been present at most meetings.

The advantages of having a local council, instead of working through Victoria council, was pointed out, and stressed the fact that if better attendance was not forthcoming, the council would have to be dissolved.

Mrs. B. Lassfolk, principal of Sidney school, recalled how tough the struggle had been to establish the local council in the beginning and that if it had to be given up now it would leave the district wide open for an "We told you so" comment.

Success of last year's joint meeting of the local schools for a special program had brought a request for a similar one this year. McTavish P.T.A. will be in charge of the program. An announcement was made that on March 21 in the Sidney school, Dr. Brock Chisholm will be the guest speaker.

NORTH SAANICH JR. GIRLS WIN

North Saanich high school junior and senior girls' basketball teams made an after-school excursion to Mount Newton high school last Wednesday to play against the teams from that school.

Mount Newton senior girls won their game with a 13-7 score while the North Saanich juniors evened the exhibition by coming out on the long end of a 13-9 tally.

Unpleasant Travel Through Snow Storm

After an enjoyable holiday in California, Mr. and Mrs. L. Christian returned to their home on Mills Road. While away they travelled to Los Angeles, Long Beach, San Diego, Desert Hot Springs and Palm Springs.

While in Palm Springs they visited Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hall, of Sidney, and Mr. and Mrs. Cline, former Sidney residents. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Christian were forced to travel through the snow storm which was then at its peak in Portland. Unfortunately they did not see the end of snow and ice until they reached Port Angeles.

Homecoming Dance On Friday At Royal Oak High School

Royal Oak Junior-Senior High School will hold its first homecoming dance on Friday, Jan. 29. This event is planned as a reunion for all ex-students of the school.

Preceding the informal dance to be held at 9.30 p.m., a basketball game between a team of present seniors and one composed of previous students, is to be played. This competition is scheduled to commence at 7.30 p.m. A half-hour intermission will be held between the game and dance.

Tickets provide entrance to the game and dance, including refreshments. Further information can be obtained by contacting Eleanor Kenney, homecoming secretary, at GR 9-6605, or Royal Oak High School at GR 9-3890.

Welfare Work

January meeting of the South Saanich Women's Institute was held at the Institute Hall, Keating, with 10 members in attendance and the president, Mrs. P. Spek in the chair. It was reported that a school reunion, for which the members were to cater, had been tabled for the present.

The hall committee reported a very successful year. One of the members gave a report on correspondence received from the German adoptee, who acknowledged a parcel from the members, with thanks. A donation of a sum of money was voted to the Solarium, in memory of a member who passed away recently.

Members were asked to visit one other member, Mrs. M. Hunt, who is presently a patient at Cloverly Private Hospital. Following the regular meeting, members all worked on a new quilt, which is being made by the institute members. Winner of the raffle for the evening was Mrs. A. Hafer, and hostesses were Mrs. A. Hafer and Mrs. L. Farrell.

FORTNIGHTLY CARD PARTY

Fortnightly card party sponsored by the South Saanich Women's Institute was held on Wednesday, Jan. 26, at their hall, Keating, with eight tables in play.

Prize winners for the evening were: ladies, 1 and 2, Mrs. Zalischuk and Mrs. T. Moulson; men, 1 and 2, E. Spek and P. Doney. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. P. Spek and Mrs. H. F. Young.

An estimated 2,000 seamen in the world are refugees—sailors without a country, destined never to set foot on dry land unless the World Refugee Year can help them.

CENTRAL SAANICH

BRENTWOOD

Brentwood Women's Institute are holding their annual Valentine party on Friday, Feb. 12, at 7.30 p.m. at the W.I. hall, West Saanich Road. Prizes will be given for the best costumes in all classes 12 years and under. There will be games and refreshments during the evening. All proceeds are for the Queen Alexandra Solarium for crippled children. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance of children and adults from the whole district; everyone is welcome.

Several members of the W.I. attended a meeting of the Colwood W.I., where Mrs. J. O. Decker of Pemberton, B.C., president of the "Provincial Board of Women's Institutes," was the guest speaker. Mrs. Decker has been in Victoria for a week on Institute business. The South Vancouver Island Board members and representatives from all Institutes of the Greater Victoria area were also present at the Colwood meeting. During the afternoon Mrs. Decker spoke on the world conference held in Edinburgh, Scotland, last year, and showed colored slides taken there and on the continent. On Friday, Mrs. E. G. Woodward, of Brentwood, provincial director, accompanied Mrs. Decker to Cobble Hill, when the Institute there invited members from other Institutes in that area to hear Mrs. Decker.

Sixteen members attended the January meeting of the United Church W.A. held last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gordon Lee, Clark Road. After the opening of the meeting with prayer, Mrs. R. Haugen took the devotional period, her reading was entitled "Sweet Songs in Strange Places" and suggested that everyone can have a song in the heart at all times and in all places. After the financial report was given it was decided to donate $50 to the board of stewards. Members were pleased to know that the church kitchen had been completed with arborite tops on the counters and tables. Several "Thank you" notes were read from those who had been remembered at Christmas. Arrangements were made for a miscellaneous stall at the bazaar and tea, being held by the Naomi group on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 13, at the church hall. The date was set for the annual spring tea, which will be held on Saturday, April 9, at the church hall, with Mrs. L. Molyneux convening. There will be a home cooking stall convened by Mrs. J. Gibson. Final plans will be made at a later meeting. An interesting report was given by the vice-president on the presbytery executive meeting held the previous day in Victoria. Committees for the year were appointed: devotional, Mrs. R. Haugen; visiting and Christian Fellowship, Mrs. R. Hindley and Mrs. T. Parkin; sewing, Mrs. M. O. Goodmanson and Mrs. G. Bickford; house, Mrs. V. Walls and Mrs. T. Parkin; church flowers, Mrs. R. Hindley; Christian education, Mrs. R. Haugen; and Mrs. H. Simpson. After the close of the meeting the hostesses, Mrs. L. Molyneux and Mrs. L. Morrison served tea. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. G. Bickford, West Saanich Road, on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 18, when members of the Shady Creek W.A. have been invited to join the Brentwood group.

The Canadians were surprised. "Don't you speak to each other, introduce yourselves?" "Oh no, that isn't done, one must wait to be introduced."

A few months ago they were in Scotland. In Edinburgh they were invited to lunch at a club next day. They would be delighted. While attending the theatre that evening a member of their party confided that the invitation to lunch had hit a snag. There was a rule that a member could only invite one guest and their host was finding difficulty in locating another sponsor.

This was overcome and they entered the precincts of the new club, so called, presumably, because it was only about 160 years old. They entered the dining room and joined the scramble for the menu. The Scots wasted no money on menus. There was a kiosk in the centre around which stood the members peering over each other trying to read the single menu and memor-

CUSTOMS ABROAD ARE COOL

(By GRAY CAMPBELL)

A gentleman who travels to the British Isles every year and has made many friends in financial circles, gradually became fascinated by the mores of clubmen. The more he travelled and observed the greater he became intrigued with the customs and taboos evolved over hundreds of years in a civilization where heavy populations are condensed in great sardine cans of cities. Recently he wondered if the sometimes strange rules may be to protect the privacy of the individual. And in order of their happening, he cited three cases.

Gray Campbell condensed in great sardine cans of cities. Recently he wondered if the sometimes strange rules may be to protect the privacy of the individual. And in order of their happening, he cited three cases.

Two years a couple of Canadians were invited to a luncheon club in London. It was crowded as they progressed from a table for crinkles into the dining room, with other business and professional men pressing for their places. When they had a drink they paid cash. When they ordered their meal, the same procedure. It was an old and dignified club. Their host had been waiting for years to join.

"Why not just sign a chit for drinks and meal?" "Well, this way you never have to suspend a member for default of dues."

ONE MUST WAIT And, looking around the dining room which was filled to capacity, one of the guests said to the host, "how many of these members do you know?"

"About six." The Canadians were surprised. "Don't you speak to each other, introduce yourselves?"

"Oh no, that isn't done, one must wait to be introduced." A few months ago they were in Scotland. In Edinburgh they were invited to lunch at a club next day. They would be delighted. While attending the theatre that evening a member of their party confided that the invitation to lunch had hit a snag. There was a rule that a member could only invite one guest and their host was finding difficulty in locating another sponsor.

This was overcome and they entered the precincts of the new club, so called, presumably, because it was only about 160 years old. They entered the dining room and joined the scramble for the menu. The Scots wasted no money on menus. There was a kiosk in the centre around which stood the members peering over each other trying to read the single menu and memor-izing their choice. A waiter took their orders, collected the cash and brought the meal. All very practical. "No one was going to default here either."

TABOO The great taboo is against discussing business inside the building. Any member caught breaking this rule could be expelled. And this probably put the brakes on intimate conversation, for by asking a person his name one might innocently reveal a profession or a business. This caused some discussion by the Canadians, who remembered the luncheon club incident in London and the fact their host had admitted he only knew a half dozen members.

"I must tell you," said one of the Scots, "that for more than 20 years I have been enjoying lunch here with a delightful companion and I don't know his name yet. Now I'm afraid to ask him."

"Why don't you ask the bartender?"

"I'm afraid the bartender might wonder at my not knowing the name of a man I have been lunching with for more than 20 years."

A few days later our friend was in London, invited to lunch at the Athenaeum, one of the most exclusive clubs in the world, with a membership of about 1,600. He told his host of the experience in Scotland and in turn was regaled with this anecdote about the Athenaeum.

THE CONFESSION A son was born into a fine old English family and shortly after registering the birth, the father entered his baby's name on the waiting list for membership at his club. The father died and by the time the boy was 24 years of age he became a member of the Athenaeum.

Finding himself in London shortly after, he entered his club for the first time in order to have lunch. He stood inside the portals and looked about, debated what to do next. We may assume he was slightly nervous. Then he spotted an elderly gentleman with a kindly look, and approached.

"Pardon me, sir, but I'm a new member. Could you direct me to the wash room?"

The old fellow was delighted and showed him the way. When the boy had freshened up and reappeared there was his guide waiting for him. Would the young man care to join him for lunch? He would be delighted.

for your children's "growing" needs!

Today it's bandages and antiseptics. Yesterday it was medicine ordered by your doctor for childhood ills. And before that — baby oil, bottles and nipples, special infant foods...

Just imagine what child-raising would be like if you didn't have your drug store to turn to!

When you reflect on the varied nature of the prescriptions your pharmacist is equipped to fill — and all the times you have depended on his services — you realize how essential he is to your family's health.

And when you consider the timesaving convenience the drug store offers... no wonder today's busy parents rely on it for so many of their "growing" needs!

They like the pleasant, professional atmosphere of the store. And they like the pharmacist himself — a friendly, warm-hearted man of science, whose spirit of service is a Canadian tradition.

LET US SEE IT PAVED!

FOR many years the provincial government has made a practice of assisting isolated communities to gain transportation. In the case of interior villages the government has provided roads and millions of dollars have been spent on the extension of the P.G.E. In no case is it likely that the community thus served will repay the cost of the service provided.

In the Gulf Islands the picture is less clear. The islanders have but two means of communication. They may travel by water or they may fly. The era of aeronautics has not advanced to the stage where it is feasible to expect the government to provide an air service to any community. Nevertheless, provision of water transport has been a part of the government's policy for decades.

Residents of the outer Gulf Islands have been pressing for improved ferry service for years. The two transportation companies serving the islands have contributed in a major degree to eliminating the problems of isolation. Today the ferry services offered are still inadequate to the residents of many of those communities.

It would be grossly unfair to expect the companies concerned to operate without a return on their investment, yet a profitable operation is impractical if the augmented service visualized is to be provided.

The matter has reached the point where the province should come to the rescue. If the companies involved are unable to proceed further without jeopardizing their security and if a greater service is required, then the government should assume responsibility and offer this service. That the companies have reached close to the furthest extent of their abilities is self-evident. It is equally evident that many of the islands do, in fact, justify a greater frequency of service, or an augmented carrying capacity.

The time has come for the provincial government to give a sympathetic hearing to the pleas of the islanders and to consider their plight as it has already listened to others on the mainland.

The ferry service to the islands is not a convenience, it is a necessity. The service represents the only road to the islands. Let us see it properly paved and not a partially surfaced private road to Swartz Bay.

SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION

TRUSTEES of Saanich School District have announced their plans to present the school building referendum again at the end of next month. The terms of the referendum are virtually unchanged with only the addition of a further $11,000 to cover certain needed equipment.

The fact that the terms are not reduced for this second presentation is an indication that the school board does not consider the needs of the district such as to permit of relaxation. These are the needed services, say the trustees, and it is for the ratepayers to decide.

Essentials brook of no comparison. The trustees see the projects listed in the light of essentials. The ratepayers are less well-informed on the subject, but they also have strong views.

The school trustees will, no doubt, answer the charges made at last week's meeting of Sidney Rotary Club.

In the meantime we have the irresistible force of progressive needs combatting the immovable post of the ratepayers' antipathy towards the costs involved. The answer, the trustees have assured us, is chaos in the classroom.

POLIO . . . AND OTHER ILLS

A FEW years ago there was not an adult in British Columbia who was not fully aware of the menace of polio. The disease recognized for years suddenly arose with a force and viciousness which brought a wave of fearfulness.

Adults and children alike were aroused to the sense of danger and the tragedy of its aftermath.

For a year or two the annual drive for funds was never so vivid in the mind of the man-in-the-street.

With the advent of the Salk vaccine and its apparent control of the disease, the public awareness fell off. The need was obviously less as the incidence was apparently controlled.

One group remained with it. The Kinsmen Clubs of B.C. were well aware of the aftermath and even of the potential perils still with us. The service clubs contributed to the erection of a treatment centre in Vancouver and undertook to assist all who were suffering from polio, current or past. When the incidence of polio fell, the treatment centre intended mainly for succor of its victims was still an important feature of Vancouver's medical facilities. Its services were extended to all youngsters suffering from crippling or disfiguring ills.

Today the Sidney Kinsmen Club is launching its annual Mothers' March on Polio. Residents of Sidney, North Saanich and Central Saanich will be invited to donate. Apart from any other consideration, this year's steady rise in the incidence of polio across the Dominion might encourage a greater contribution. The polio fund is not dead while polio still exists.

PUZZLED BY REPORT

Chamber Still Looks At Fish

By ISLANDER
Ponder Island subscribers are puzzled at an item appearing in last week's Review, concerning decision of Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce not to endorse the Ponder chamber's request concerning certain bans on commercial net fishing and beam trawling in Gulf Islands waters.

It was noted that the Sidney chamber feels the changing nature of the landscape is the cause of poor fishing in the area.

Mrs. W. L. Shirley, secretary of the Ponder Chamber, said she had just received a letter from the Sidney chamber as yet, but that some clarification of the views expressed might be expected when she did.

Herbert Spalding, chairman of the fishing and conservation committee of the Ponder chamber, said he was unaware of any landscape changes through the islands which might cause concern to the schools of fish in the annual runs.

"If there was intense industrialization, such as pulp mills and so on, this could make a difference, but there is none of that," commented Mr. Spalding.

Meanwhile, a helpful and informative letter has been received from the Duncan-Cowichan chamber, suggesting, among other things, that further comments would be welcome. Additional information has been sent along to Duncan.

Cowichan Bay and the Saanich Inlet have been closed to commercial fishing for some years. Sport fishing is generally good in those waters.

MORE ABOUT SCHOOLS

group of students who were prompted by a background which encouraged interest in education. The results were likely to be higher than those of the public schools, where there was no selection or culling. If a public school could select its students in the same manner the product would be surprising, he stated.

The superintendent added that he had inspected a number of private schools and was not impressed with what he found.

The school superintendent had outlined the two phases of his address and correlated his finding with the prospects for Saanich in the event of a failure of the referendum to gain approval at its next presentation.

The need for separation of junior high school students from other grades was recognized a half-century ago in the United States, said the inspector. Today these reasons tend to be forgotten, he commented.

The pre-adolescent and the adolescent does not just grow up, he continued. Through the junior high school grades he is difficult to handle and to teach. He is characterized by fidgeting and restlessness accompanied by reduced attention and activity.

The Saanich School Board has expressed its preference for the separate junior high school, he told the meeting. This system provides for a better education and a better social behaviour.

Mr. McLellan quoted from innumerable educational authorities.

If the referendum is approved at its next presentation the board will provide a separate junior high school to serve the lower end of the peninsula. It will be the first of a series of separate schools of this nature.

The second part of his address covered the shift system and again he quoted copiously to substantiate his opinion. In Surrey the shift system operated for many years.

The shift system provides for shorter class periods, longer days for the student and poorer graduates. The least effect is felt by the primary grades, while the greater effect is at the other end of the scale with high school students suffering extensively from the shift system.

The shift system offers a loss to the student of 25 per cent of his classroom time. There is a reduction in the use of the library facilities and extra-curricular activities fall off to a minimum. A notable character quoted from the experience of Surrey in connection with the shift system was a falling off in attendance at music classes.

Doubling up of schools also influences deportment. The effect is to reduce attention, discipline and morale, while absenteeism showed an increase on the mainland. The parents object, the day is too long and the students are too tired, concluded the report.

Superintendent of schools at Surrey added, "No one will ever know how much the students have had to pay for the shift system."

Irrespective of the reception given to the forthcoming by-law a shift system will operate in some Saanich District schools in September, Mr. McLellan warned his audience. Royal Oak will be the first to be hit by this need.

A questioner asked whether there was any substance in a complaint that the curricula and schedules in the schools had been tightened up at the expense of the less talented.

Schools throughout North America are tightening up on their schedules and turning towards a more strictly academic routine, stated the inspector. He noted that already two courses were needed and this need was accepted. The course available to the student planning to continue at university was not the ideal course for the student whose education is terminating at the end of high school. A third course was now needed for the least talented for whom industry has no need until they reach the age of 18.

J. J. Woods observed that a number of his friends were opposed to the by-law. Their opposition arose not from the fundamentals of the project, but from a steadfast conviction that an unfair share of the cost was being borne by the land. Was there any indication of a change in policy? No doubt, the question is being carefully considered right across the country, observed Mr. McLellan.

Is the school building business one of a never-ending rise in costs? asked Mr. Quebec. "Will we revert to a more realistic style?" he added.

The department goes over all plans carefully and refuses to approve any feature which is showy or needlessly expensive, said Mr. McLellan.

Referring to the standards of equipment in the schools, Mr. McLellan observed that farmers who object to the standards of equipment in the schools are the first to install the most efficient and expensive equipment on their farms.

"Why does the government not weaken an school," asked W. J. Wakefield. "Post offices are built to a standard plan, why not schools?"

The department offers standard plans for schools up to six rooms, replied the superintendent, but the government has an agreement with the architects' association that any school beyond that size is to be designed individually.

"I still feel that the government could standardize plans for all schools," pursued Mr. Wakefield.

CHEAP FOOD
For $14 extra food for one year can be provided for a refugee. In some countries the basic allowance for refugee rations is only 18 cents per person a day.

"and save the ratepayers thousands of dollars."

Mr. Woods rose twice to thank the speaker, before the meeting reached a close.

The experimental farm superintendent recalled his own schooling in British Columbia and remarked that he would not want to see his son attend the schools he had to use.

"For the Kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost."—Romans 14:17.

Most people are concerned about a life after death, particularly in regard to themselves. What will it be like? Can we enter? Have we any assurance in this life that we shall arrive in a "heavenly abode"?

This "heavenly abode" is often referred to in Scripture as the Kingdom of God. Jesus told Nicodemus: "Except ye be born again ye cannot see the Kingdom of God."

So we know that entrance to the Kingdom is through salvation by the blood of Christ.

Now in Luke 17:21 Jesus tells us that the Kingdom is within us. So when John says: "Behold, now are we the sons of God . . . and Paul tells us "our citizenship is in heaven . . ."

... we know that here and now we are made ready for heaven and become citizens of that place.

Paul reminds us here that all this preparation does not revolve around man's diet but about his relationship with Christ. Righteousness comes from cleansing through the blood and we then find peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. Jesus said that it is not that which entered in through a man's mouth that defiles but the thoughts and speech which issue from him. Salvation is not through works or diet but through faith in the shed blood of Christ.

"A Silver Plated Spoon", by John, Duke of Bedford. Cassell, 246 pp.

Press reports of the Duke of Bedford have been of a such regular nature as to arouse interest at the mention of his name. By and large he is generally depicted as an eccentric. In some case the eccentricities are shown as strange and bizarre, while others treat them as something to be expected of and tolerated in the landed gentry. It all depends on the point of view.

F. G. Richards
There is no question but that if any of us were given the privilege of living another life in this period or the past we would choose to be among the landed gentry of one of the less turbulent periods. By such a choice we would be assured of the means of livelihood and the pleasant graces of life would surround us. After reading the somewhat flippant comments of the scion of the Russell family of his ancestors' oddities we might be convinced that the footman's life would have been more rewarding.

The book is attractive for that very flippancy. There is nothing of the snob or braggart about the author. The reader is not graciously admitted to The Presence for this one interview and he is left reasonably satisfied that the writer does not feel the immediate need to take a bath. It is light and the reader is invited to laugh with the writer at the antics of his own family.

Perhaps not all of us would care to lay out our families and their past foibles for all to examine. In the writer's defence it must be noted that most of the evidence he displays is already public knowledge and available to whoever might care to read up on the subject himself.

The Duke of Bedford is not endowed with the past of a normal duke. He has been disowned by his father and worked for many years without a penny from his family. During that time, and while he had no reason to expect to inherit the title and Woburn Abbey, he was cm-all $100,000 of it. Mind you it took Mr. Green 18 years — and that's what he made, not what he kept. Like the Greens, most of us in our lifetime will earn more than this imposing pile of bank notes. Question is: how much will we keep? Systematic saving at the B of M helps you keep more of what you make. Just one of those 100,000 dollars will open a savings account for you. Keep it strictly for saving, and there's one thing you can say for the money you put into that account . . . you have really got it made.

NOTES

Paul Taylor was invested into the Scout troop at the meeting on January 21. Paul has been a faithful and enthusiastic Cub and has earned his Leaping Wolf badge which is the insignia of a Two Star Cub and which is the highest attainment in Cubbing.

Joe Rowton of B pack was awarded his first star at the meeting on January 25. Acting District Commissioner Wilf Gibson presented Mrs. Shillito with the Pack Scouters' basic training card.

The Cubs' and Scouts' mothers will meet in the Scout Hall on February 9, at 10:30 a.m., to discuss plans for a father and son banquet which is to be held during the month of March.

Near-Drowning As Distance
Misjudged In Darkness

Mrs. Phyllis Back, of Pender Island, narrowly escaped drowning last week, shortly after disembarking from the Cy Peck, at Port Washington.

Mrs. Back had noted a fish boat at the floats, in the ferry's searchlight, as the vessel docked, and decided to try and purchase some fresh fish. In the darkness she mis-judged the distance between the float and the fish boat, and stepped off into the water. The unidentified fisherman heard the splash, and rushing out, managed to seize her coat, as she came up the second time, and pulled her to safety. Badly shaken, and chilled, Mrs. Back was driven home by Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Burns, who appeared at an opportunity time.

This incident points up the need for lights on the wharves, contend islanders. The Pender Chamber of Commerce is presently negotiating with the department of public works, and the department of transport, in Ottawa, concerning wharf installations to brighten landing areas.

Poor Response Reported To Dental Clinic At Salt Spring

Mrs. Arthur Young reported to a recent meeting of Salt Spring P.T.A.
on the successful Boxing Night dance which she convened. The affair netted $146.17. A small gift will be given to Bob Wood, who acts as doorman each year.

Correspondence included a letter stating this P.T.A. is now a part of the South Vancouver Island Region instead of the Central Island Region.
The former Fulford P.T.A. transferred its balance of $2.61 to garden prizes, to close their books.

Only 80 dental clinic registrations have been made so far, which is very discouraging to both the dental clinic committee and dentist, members were told. About 180 children are eligible in the Gulf Islands for this service which gives complete dental care for the sum of $4. Average work done on a child is worth about $20. Mrs. W. Jackson resigned from the committee and Mrs.
Hattie Stewart will take on her duties.

Mrs. Mary Follows reported for the public library and Mrs. R. J.
Hill and Mrs. P. Hildred consented to represent P.T.A. in assisting with this service.

Membership chairman, Mrs. W.

SCHOOL REPRESENTATIVES

Representatives of 11 schools within School District No. 63 met at the Royal Oak high school on Monday evening to discuss the best way of publicizing the school referendum to be presented to the ratepayers for a second time on February 27.
As to why it had failed to get the necessary 60 per cent majority vote needed, the consensus of opinion was that it had lacked publicity, especially in regard to figures on the school population increase in the next few years; the approximate cost to the individual taxpayer and the explanation of the involved legal wording on the ballot itself.

School population is increasing at a rate of 10 per cent a year, and even if this vote is successful, it is most likely that many schools will be on a swing shift for the fall term.
There will be as many junior high students in Royal Oak high school next year as there were in all the grades two years ago.

Although the total stated in the earlier referendum was $799,000, it was not clearly understood by many that the cost to the taxpayers in Saanich School District would only be about $200,000, or 25 per cent of the total, with the provincial department of education paying the larger share. This on the taxpayers' level would mean a cost of about $7.50 a year increase in taxes on an assessment of $5,000.

Careful reading is necessary to understand the legal terms required on the referendum, the meeting agreed. The section of the statement in which it is explained that the school board could raise money without further assent of the public, misled many into thinking that the school board could borrow unlimited sums whenever they wished, if they voted in the affirmative.

The total of $799,000 (province's share and the ratepayers) was the maximum which could be borrowed during the three-year period, but would only be borrowed as it was needed to carry out the building program, as it is outlined in the referendum.

Those present at the meeting felt that if P.T.A. groups, and interested parents would conduct a telephone campaign to urge everyone to get out and exercise their vote, that the 60 per cent majority would be assured this time.

Students are concerned at the prospect of split shifts, and the student council of Oak Bay high school has, of its own volition, written to the school board offering its services in any way that will help bring a 60 per cent majority "Yes" vote on February 2.

Brigden reported that 107 persons have now joined.
The attendance pennant was won by grade 1, Mrs. W. Seymour.

Pictures on the Channel Islands, wildlife in Africa, and other places were shown by C. Kirk, who is well versed on these areas, having lived there a number of years.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. P. Howard, Mrs. H. Hollings and Mrs. M. Till.

FULFORD

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. Grant for the week-end were members of the family: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lacy and two children, from Cedar V.I. Bruce Grant also arrived home last week from Shawnigan.

R. R. Alton, of Vancouver, spent the week-end at Fulford. He returned home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Daffurn returned to Fulford last week after spending six weeks in Haney, B.C., where they were visiting relatives.

Mrs. L. Robinson arrived home recently, after an absence of four months visiting in Vancouver.

HOME NURSING COURSE BEGINS

First in a series of lectures on home nursing by the Civil Defence, began in the Anglican parish hall at Ganges last Tuesday evening. The St. John Ambulance course is being instructed by Mrs. A. MacManus and Mrs. A. E. Roddis.

There will be a 14-week course altogether, every Tuesday at 8.15 p.m.

Mrs. W. East spent Friday night in her home at Fulford, Isabella Point Road, and returned to Vancouver on Saturday, where her husband, Walter East, is ill in the hospital.

THE GULF ISLANDS
SALT SPRING ISLAND CHURCH GROUP
HOLDS DINNER AND MEETING AT GANGES

Following a congregational dinner, co-convened by Mrs. M. Sober and Miss Olive Moutat for the evening circle and Women's Association, the annual meeting of the Salt Spring Island United Church was held in the church at Ganges.

Daryl Logan introduced Rev. C. H. Whitmore of Sidney, who presided for the reports of "Life and Work" for the year 1959 on the island. Mr. Whitmore took the devotional period, and also explained church finances.

Brief reports of the various activities of United Church organizations show a busy year. The treasurer's report, by W. M. Moutat showed the year's receipts as $7,531.07. Increased expenses were incurred, the organ being almost paid for, but considerable balance is still left on the basement improvement account.

Secretary of the session, E. Parsons, reported on a number of special services: the retirement of Rev. C. G. MacKenzie in June; the coming of Daryl Logan. Eight members joined the church, and regrets were expressed that Mr. and Mrs. Colin Moutat were leaving.

The Women's Association, reported secretary Mrs. J. D. Reid, had 26 members and 10 meetings were held. A great deal of furnishing was done at the manse at Ganges, and events included, strawberry tea, gladiolus show, Thanksgiving dinner, and annual bazaar. Mrs. Rosa Nobbs was presented with a life membership certificate and W.A. pin, and a farewell gift was given to Mrs. MacKenzie. Financial report by Mrs. H. Ashley showed the following donations: manse, $249.72; Union College, $25; church funds, $200; building fund, $200; Burnaby Girls' Home, $25.

The evening circle report, by Mrs. J. Wagg, showed major activities were catering for dinners. Two coffee urns were obtained, also saucepans, tea kettle and other utensils through coupons and Watkins. Donations also included a washing machine for the manse. Treasurer, Mrs. J. Tomlinson, showed the following donations: church kitchen equipment, $273.54; oil for church, $53.33; janitor's wage, $60; Union College, $25; church funds, $200; manse equipment, $61.77.

Mrs. I. Grant and Mrs. A. Williams, secretary and treasurer of Burgoyne W.A., reported a busy year, with considerable services done for the maintenance of the Burgoyne church. Donations included: S.S.I. church general funds, $125; senior citizens, $10; Union College, $10, and cost of upkeep of Burgoyne church.

The A.O.T.S. set up and studied the work of the following committees: membership, fellowship and reception; boys' work; community service and works committee. Furnishings for the manse were purchased by proceeds of a bean supper; members of Chemainus club were entertained in May; and executive members went to Chemainus in November. Donations were: janitor services, $25; manse equipment, $55.55. Reports were given by secretary C. N. Peterson and treasurer, C. W. Mellish.

During the first part of the year, Rev. MacKenzie held a study group for older boys, and model boat-building for younger boys.

C.G.I.T. has 15 members, and were led by Mrs. J. Bradley the first part of the year, then by Mrs. G. Burnett. Group forms the large part of the choir. They sang at the Vancouver conference and held a mother and daughter banquet with Rev. Laura Decker at Ganges.

speaker. The girls lend their help to other organizations and offer their continued co-operation.

Mrs. H. Ashley, Sunday school superintendent paid tribute to the teachers for their years of faithful service, but said the weak spot was the lack of a leader for boys' work. Rally Day theme was Africa and $17.01 was sent to the religious education council for missionary purposes. Collections totalled $69.19 and supplies cost $62.38. There are 39 children enrolled and there are four teachers.

The choir is led by Mrs. J. Tomlinson, and they practise faithfully and lead worship most acceptably.

Brook Heads Legion Branch
At Pender For Coming Year

Installation of officers took place at the regular meeting of the Pender Island Branch, No. 239, Canadian Legion, held Thursday evening, Jan. 21, at the clubroom.

D. S. Brook was installed as president; R. F. Taylor, second vice-president; R. A. Brackett and E. G. Fralic members of the executive; and Owen Bingham, secretary-treasurer. The first vice-president, P. H. Grimmer; auditors I. J. Garrod and J. B. Bridge, and sergeant-at-arms, F. C. Smith hold office for another year.

Mr. Garrod acted as installing officer. Two applicants were initiated as members of the Legion.

The members were informed of the coming visit to British Columbia of the Dominion president of the Canadian Legion, Dave L. Burgess, M.B.E., M.C., and the invitation from the Nanaimo branch to all members of the Legion in this area.

Films About C.A.R.S. To Be Seen In Parish Hall, Ganges

First meeting of the new year for members of the Vesuvius circle was held at the home of Mrs. M. W. Copeland last week, with Mrs. R. T. Meyer presiding. Devotional service was taken by Anglicans and Mrs. G. H. Holmes.

Mrs. A. G. Wilkins, who was recently elected as secretary, read the annual meeting minutes. Treasurer's report showed a balance of $76.69.

Archdeacon Holmes spoke to the meeting on the cards which will be presented to W.A. members of 25 years' standing. Vesuvius circle members who will receive them are Mrs. H. A. Robinson and Mrs. P. E. Lowther.

Mrs. Holmes read a letter from their prayer partner, Rev. W. Whitbread, of Spence Bay, in the Arctic which gave an interesting and informative account of his life and work there. Proposed changes to the constitution were also read. These will be revised at the annual meeting in Victoria.

The president informed the meeting that films will be shown in the parish hall at Ganges by Miss E. Dixon, therapist for the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society. They will be about C.A.R.S. and of public interest.

Following the showing of films on Wednesday, Feb. 3, at 8 p.m., a tag day has been organized for Saturday, Feb. 6.

Annual vestry meeting will be held February 4, in the parish hall at 8 p.m.

Anglican Parish Meeting On Feb. 4

Arrangements have been completed for the annual Salt Spring Island Anglican parish meeting to be held in the parish hall at St. George's Church, Ganges, next Thursday evening, Feb. 4 at 8 o'clock. Annual reports of various Anglican organizations will be heard.

By CHARLES AND WINNIE WATMOUGH

Well, as we left the newlyweds to become better acquainted with each other in the last instalment we cannot well begin where we left off as we now have Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton of Ladysmith, or whatever it was at that early date, and Thomas William well used to saying, "Meet the better seven-eighths; my friend", as he introduced his newly acquired helpmeet to his many friends who had not had the pleasure of an earlier acquaintance with the lady of his choice.

Interruption:—Like other would-be writers we make mistakes and we would like to correct one we made in the first instalment of our story. We wrote of Henry and Harry Cauldwell; we should have written of Henry and William Cauldwell. Thanks in advance for your forgiveness.

As the reader must have guessed by this time the newlyweds began married life with the good man at work and the little woman doing the housework in Ladysmith where Tom (yes we now have him down out of the clouds once more and he is just plain Tom) had a position as assistant manager of the Ladysmith Lumber Company. About a year later he was transferred to Nanaimo, where the company had built a new mill. Due to this transfer the happy couple's first daughter, Olive, became a daughter of Nanaimo in-

of Salt Spring High

By DUNCAN HEPBURN

Practice did the trick, for on Sunday, Jan. 17, the local teams defeated the Island Tug and Barge team, 3-2. The two Island Tug and Barge goals were scored in the first 15 minutes of the game; then the Salt Spring team took over. Malcolm Bond, the centre forward, was star of the game with two goals. Robin "Red" Harrison, the left wing, scored the other one. The goalie, John Dewar, ably stopped all shots after the first flare of Island Tug and Barge pressure.

The students' council set its eyes

stead of becoming a daughter of Ladysmith.

LEAVES NANAIMO

Tom remained with the Nanaimo mill until early in the year of 1910, at which time he accepted a position with the B.C. Forest Service as assistant superintendent of scalers; with headquarters in Nelson, B.C., where he found and bought a suitable house before sending for his wife and family, of one, to join him and change the word house to "home". When Mrs. Moutat arrived she was appalled as she viewed the hilly formation of the place which she was expected to accept as her place of residence.

She must have accepted the challenge, however, for the house became a home in reality as three more children were born to the industrious pair in that fair town. Thomas William, Gavin Harrison and Robina. But all this did not happen while Tom was still assistant manager of scalers for, on July 1, 1915, he cast his lot with the federal government service as travelling appraiser of timber, raw and finished, machinery of all kinds, boats and (though they bore little resemblance to present models) ships of the air. In plain English he acted as trouble shooter for the department.

TRAVELLING FAR

His position, naturally, was not for the stay-at-home. Many miles had to be covered as his routes took him to many parts of Canada and the United States, the border to Los Angeles, the coast to Cleveland. He spoke well of the many business executives he met on both sides of the border but was especially loud in his praise of many he met on the sunny side of the imaginary line between the two countries.

What was the little woman doing all this time? Well—thinking it over—she could not have had too many idle moments to spend in day dreaming or fretting over such a small matter as a fit-her-and-yonder husband. Keeping house and taking care of four children always has been and always will be a chore for any woman, in spite of the many labor saving "doo-dads" woman's sparring partners invent from time to time.

In 1926, mainly to further the education of their young fry, the still happy couple gathered up their movable possessions and followed the path of the sun as far west as Vancouver where the children, one by one, as they graduated from high school went on to U.B.C. to gain their degrees. Olive graduated as a school teacher; Thomas William, after a post-graduate course at the Institute of Technology, California, which gave him his M.A. degree, is now with the B.C. Research Council in Vancouver; Gavin Harrison is at present connected with the Dominion Research Council in Ottawa; while the baby of the family, Robina, after a career as a R.N., is now engaged in the career of being Mrs. Robert Diffin and at the present time is a resident of Comox, B.C.

We were agreeably surprised during our last visit to the Mount home when Tom unearthed, from their on the far future last week as they fixed the date for the graduation exercises. The date is June 3. It may seem a bit early to be making plans, but it must be remembered that an orchestra must be hired, the hall secured for that night, and other miscellaneous business attended to.

The girls' basketball team is busy practicing for a tournament to be held on February 6 at the Belmont high school in Victoria. It is a Swiss style tournament, all the competing teams play at least four games. There are four schools attending the meet.

NO NAMES DISCLOSED

The boys of the choir have officially been informed who are to be in the cast, and which part they will take. The girls had their try-outs on Friday, Jan. 22, but no official decision has been handed down. Mrs. Seymour and Mr. Evans have decided not to disclose any names until the middle of next week.

On Friday, Jan. 22, the senior boys' basketball team, resplendent in their new uniforms, sallied forth to meet the basketball team from the Shawnigan Lake boys' school. Two games were played. In the first game, which Salt Spring won 24-23, Malcolm Bond was the star with 12 points. Ian Shopland was next with six points. The second game Shawnigan retaliated by dumping Salt Spring 40-20. In this game Ian Shopland was the star with 14 points; Malcolm Bond was second, with four points.

The P.T.A. is sponsoring a band concert by the North Saanich high school band; date, Friday, Feb. 5; time, 8.15 p.m.; place, Mahon Hall in Ganges.

As billets are needed for about 50 band members, would anyone who is willing to billet one or more of these young people, please contact either Kathleen Butt or Sally Alexander.

This concert promises to be well worth attending. Mrs. Eagles and Hans Gruber will be coming with the band.

On the occasion of your retirement from the Civil Service we desire to express on behalf of the government sincere appreciation of the loyal and efficient service you have rendered to the Dominion of Canada, and to the Department of National Revenue in particular, during your employment for a period of 26 years. Dated at Ottawa, this fourth day of December, 1941."

SATURNA ISLAND

Mrs. Norman Wilson has returned from Vancouver where she was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Oats, for the past 10 days.

Dr. and Mrs. B. J. Hallows have been visiting in Victoria for the past week.

Casper Begon of Kenaston, Sask., has been the guest of his nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. B. Begon. He has just returned from Hawaii and will travel to California after leaving Saturna Island.

Mr. and Mrs. M. McDonald have returned from Duncan where they had stayed for a few days.

vitamin-enriched breakfast foods passed his lips while he was a lad. All that we can say, as we see him strutting around, is, "They must have come into the world vitamin-packed in those real early days". Of course in the early days men were men with a capital M and women saw to it that they remained that way. How else could three men have handled a department that today requires more men than you could count on your toes, even if you were a centipede?

During all the years Tom and his busy helpmeet spent on the mainland they lived in no place which, in their eyes, could compete with this little island so it was only natural that they should return in due time and purchase the spot near Wellbury Bay where they decided to build a home in which to spend their later years. Once having acquired title they spent their summer holidays making little ones out of big ones as they cleared the deck for a homesite near their own little bay.

Upon his retirement from active service with the civil service Tom immediately started active service, with the help of Mr. Loosemore and Mr. Springfield, building the home in which we recently interviewed them. When one sees his home and the lovely little valley he has personally cleared and made into a garden spot during the period of his life when so many people seek naught but rest one cannot help but marvel at the spirit with which some men and women seem to be endowed.

Time passed quickly while we visited the Moutats, a visit made even more pleasant by the spot of tea and the toast and such served by Miss Olive, and ere long it was time for Tom to go tend to his chickens and evening chores so after a brief discussion about the magnolia tree in the back yard and the various shrubs and flowers between the house and the little bay we reluctantly terminated our stay. And just as reluctantly we are coming to the conclusion that this little story is nearing the end.

Thomas William Moutat will be 85 years of age on the fifth day of May, 1960, and just five days later his young bride of 1907 will be—well—let's just say still young enough to be a real pal to the 85-year-old youngster for some time to come. With this disclosure of age we now leave them; both hale and hearty and enjoying the sunset years where they may watch the tides go in and out of their lovely bay.

GUEST SPEAKER AT FEB. MEETING

President Mrs. H. Baines was in the chair at the January meeting of the Galiano P.T.A. which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs.

Thrilling Flavor!

If you bake at home, here's a coffee cake with two secrets: the fruit and spice flavor in the dough and the tender lightness that comes from baking with Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Serve it hot or toasted!

PIE PLATE STREUSEL

1. Scald 1/2 c. milk. Stir in 1/2 c. granulated sugar, 1 tsp. salt, 1/4 c. butter or Blue Bonnet Margarine. Cool to lukewarm.
2. Meantime, measure into large bowl 1/2 c. lukewarm water. Stir in 1 tsp. granulated sugar. Sprinkle with contents of 1 envelope Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 mins. THEN stir well. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture.
3. Turn out on floured board; knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl.

4. Punch down dough. Turn out on floured board; knead until smooth. Divide into 2 equal portions; shape into smooth balls. Roll out into 7" rounds. Place each in a greased pie plate (8 1/2" top inside measure). Grease tops. Cover with towel. Let rise until doubled—about 45 mins.
5. Combine 1/2 c. lightly-packed brown sugar, 1/4 c. flour, 1/8 tsp. grated nutmeg and 2 tbsps. melted butter or margarine. Brush dough generously with melted butter or margarine; sprinkle with crumble. Bake in mod. oven, 350°, 20 to 25 mins. Yield: 2 streusels.

ONLY TWO SPOONS

WHEN REPAIR GANG VISITS HALL

By SCOUTER

White lace tea-cloth, heavy coffee mugs, silver teapot, man-sized sandwiches, instant coffee, cookies and only two spoons to be shared for stirring is a conglomerate mixture indeed.

The occasion was a much needed coffee break in the middle of Sunday afternoon for the group of hard-working men at the Sidney Scout and Guide Hall.

The banging of hammers, whine of electric saws and the clatter of tools and lumber made it evident that something was being done in the hall. With Brownies, Guides, Scouts and two Cub packs using the small hall every week, a proper storage arrangement has long been needed. Besides the needed repairs of doors and windows, the hall will now have new cupboards, built-in lockers for each group and storage space for tents and camping equipment.

Experimental Farm Notes

WEEKLY REPORT OF NORTH SAANICH STATION

E. F. MAAS, P.Ag.

The superiority of the S-143 variety of orchard grass has been shown at both the Nanaimo and Courtenay Project Farms in tests carried out over the past four years.

The characteristics required of orchard grass are high yield, leafiness and late maturity. Late maturity in orchard grass is especially desirable where it is being grown in combination with legumes. Orchard grass is notable for its aggressive growth habit in the spring while the legumes are quite the opposite and develop more slowly when grass competition is excessive. For pasture forage it is desirable to have the proper balance of clover to grass which is attained in the spring by the use of late maturing orchard grass varieties.

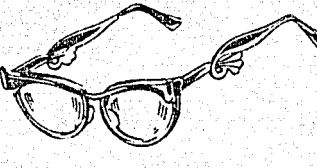

For hay or silage crops it is essential to have grasses and legumes reaching suitable cutting stage at the same time which, when using orchard grass, is possible only by selecting a late maturing variety of grass. Of the 10 varieties tested S-143 most nearly met the requirements of high yield, leafiness and late maturity. The maturity date of S-143 was from a week to 10 days later than the common varieties, Commercial, Alkora and Danish and should be more compatible in the mixture with legumes.

The yield of S-143 was three to nine per cent lower than the above varieties, but this loss in yield was more than compensated for by the superiority of S-143 in leafiness and fineness of stem.

Criticism Of Phrasing Is Offered By Toastmistress

"And now I can travel at 40 miles an hour, having just obtained my driver's licence," concluded Mrs. R. N. Shanks in her short speech on her story of speed beginning with learning to walk, then run and finally to drive a car by herself.

As Madrona Club Toastmistress for the regular meeting of the local club, Mrs. W. R. Orchard used for the theme of the evening, the "Fabulous 20th Century", and all speakers used this as the underlying subject of their talks.

RE-ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Regular monthly meeting of the Sunshine Circle of St. Paul's United Church was held on Wednesday, Jan. 20 at the manse, with 16 members and one guest present.

The meeting was opened with The Lord's Prayer, followed with the devotion taken by Mrs. M. Chappuis. Usual business followed and the annual report was read by the secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. S. Roberts read the W.A. report.

The president vacated the chair and Mrs. C. H. Whitmore took over for the election of officers. One of the members made the motion that the present slate of officers be returned. This was seconded, and with the exception of the entertainment committee, all officers will carry on for another year.

Officers are: president, Mrs. A. O. Berry; vice-president, Mrs. J. Easton; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. W. Gardner; devotion, Mrs. M. Chappuis; W.A. representative, Mrs. S. Roberts; entertainment committee, Mrs. J. Pedlow and Mrs. Freeman; publicity, Mrs. D. B. Campbell.

Meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction, after which a social hour was enjoyed, the hostesses being Mrs. W. W. Gardner and Mrs. M. Walker.

Next meeting will be held on February 24 at the home of Mrs. D. McFee.

IT'S ALWAYS FAIR WEATHER!

WITH AN AUTOMATIC CLOTHES DRYER

An automatic dryer is like having "automatic" sunshine every day! There's no waiting for good drying weather — no worry about laundry piling up — no need to rush out in a sudden shower to rescue near-dry clothes. You can wash and dry, rain or shine, day or night!

See your appliance dealer. Ask him for a demonstration of an automatic dryer. It makes every washday sunny!

B.C. ELECTRIC

Chances are you'll never tie up alongside C.S.L.'s flagship 'T. R. McLagan' at your Imperial Esso service station. But she's an Imperial customer all the same and an important one as far as you are concerned.

How ships like this giant grain carrier help Imperial keep the cost of gasoline down

The fuel used by the T. R. McLagan is a thick, heavy, black oil—quite different from the light volatile gasoline your car needs.

If gasoline were the only product made from crude, it would cost much more to produce. Instead, research and refining specialists in companies like Imperial have developed ways to utilize all parts of the crude, from light gases for making plastics, for example, to heavy asphalt for pavement.

In between are hundreds of other products, like the oils, greases and fuel used by the T. R. McLagan and the lubricants for your car.

Imperial's efficiency in getting everything out of the crude oil means the prices of all products are low. That's one reason government figures show that in the last five years the average price of things people buy has gone up nearly 16 per cent, while gasoline has actually gone down about half of one per cent.*

FARM TRUCKS MUST BE CLEARLY IDENTIFIED

New regulations have been passed under the Department of Commercial Transport Act making it compulsory, effective March 1, for all commercial vehicles to be marked with their gross vehicle weight. This must be clearly shown in letters not less than two inches high, on both sides of the truck. The abbreviation "G.V.W." may be used for gross vehicle weight.

In addition, all farm trucks must be clearly identified by the words "Farm Vehicle" in letters not less than two inches high, again on both sides of the truck.

SIDNEY RETAIL COMPANY EXPANDS ITS OPERATION INTO NEW SAANICH DISTRICT

Slegg Brothers Open Fourth Store Of Expanding Business

Third retail merchandizing centre and the fourth store to be established by the company opened this week at Shelbourne Plaza in Saanich, when Slegg Brothers Ltd., of Sidney, marked a new chapter in their program of expansion.

The store is situated in one of the largest and newest shopping centres to be constructed in the Greater Victoria area. It lies at the intersection of Cedar Hill Cross Road and Shelbourne St.

The Sidney company already operates two stores in Sidney and another at Royal Oak.

Slegg Brothers Ltd. was established 12 years ago in Sidney when Eric Slegg, veteran of the R.C.N., teamed with Air Force veteran, John Speedie and opened a store here, retailing hardware. The two-man operation gradually expanded, although Mr. Speedie dropped out, later to re-enlist with the air force. He is serving overseas at the present time.

OUTGROW SPACE

The original store was partly rented to an antique dealer. In the course of its early years the operation soon outgrew its accommodation and the entire building was taken in to form the retail section on Beacon Ave.

The rear section of the building had been originally employed to store lumber. The store section gradually encroached on the lumber bins until a new lumber yard was constructed across Fifth St.

The Fifth St. accommodation was pressed for space even when a new storage barn had been erected. The building was soon followed by a completely separate lumber sales centre on the same property.

The aggressive brothers, for Maurice Slegg had now joined his brother, spent several years expanding their building and increasing the operation at Sidney before looking further afield.

Several years ago they extended their operation to Royal Oak when the new shopping centre was established there.

For the past year or more the three stores have been the limit of the company's retail operation. When the Shelbourne Plaza was under discussion the company looked further afield and widened its scope.

EXPANSION

Slegg Bros. became a Marshall Wells store many years ago and all three stores handle the nationally known name brands.

The new entry into Saanich, this is the second store to be opened in the municipality, is to be marked by a company-wide celebration and all three stores will enter into the display.

The company which 12 years ago employed the two operators today boasts a staff of 22. From one elderly vehicle its fleet has increased to four modern trucks. From one small store with a limited range of merchandise the scope has increased to four buildings in three expanding communities.

The brothers who direct the company's fortunes hail from Ontario. After the war Eric returned to the

Chair Fund Augmented By Kinettes

SANSCIA Hall Chair Fund, which has now grown to $110.97 thanks to an additional donation of $25 from the Kinettes will, officials hope, receive another boost when a special bingo is held on February 5.

Sidney P.T.A., who sponsors the chair fund, last week announced plans to hold a bingo at the Sidney elementary school with all proceeds to go to the chair fund. Beside game prizes there will be a door prize and light refreshments will be available.

As one of the original sponsors of the SANSCIA organization, the Sidney P.T.A. are endeavoring to honor their commitment to the district by sponsoring and encouraging donations to the chair fund.

Local Musicians Enjoy Rehearsal

At the symphony concert held recently in Sidney, Conductor Hans Gruber extended an invitation to members of the North Saanich high school band to attend a rehearsal of the Victoria Symphony Orchestra.

On Monday last the invitation became a reality. An enjoyable and profitable experience resulted for some 10 members of the band when they were Mr. Gruber's guests at a regular Monday rehearsal of the orchestra.

If time permits Mr. Gruber is hoping to accompany the North Saanich band to Salt Spring on Friday evening, Feb. 5, when it will give a program at Ganges.

Other entertainers will accompany the band to give variety to the concert. They include: The Majorettes, the Lewedados, a stringed instrument, Shirley Kerr with a monologue, and dancers Tara and Maeva Doherty.

coast and his enthusiasm brought Maurice in his wake. They are two easterners who give the lie to any suggestion that the east is unaware of the west.

Cubs To Go To Arena For Hockey

When Victoria Cougars meet the Spokane team at the Memorial Arena on February 10, the solid block of supporters in Section 9 will be from Sidney.

With J. G. Mitchell making the arrangements for Mitchell and Anderson, hockey tickets have been obtained for both the Sidney Cub packs, totalling 46 boys and enough adults to provide transportation and supervision.

For many of the boys this will be their first hockey game, and permission of parents is being asked for this special treat of a late night during a school week. Sidney Scout Hall resounded with a very noisy "three cheers for Mr. Mitchell", when the Cubs received the exciting news.

C. N. PETERSON LEAVES ISLAND

C. N. Peterson, who is starting his new duties as school secretary for Courtenay School District 71 next week, after having held that position the past two years on Salt Spring Island for the Gulf Islands School District 64, was honored by board members and wives at a farewell dinner party in Harbour House, Ganges, last week.

He was presented with a beautiful leather brief case, and Mrs. Peterson received a bouquet of daffodils and carnations.

G. S. Humphreys made the presentations on behalf of the trustees and expressed appreciation for the good work Mr. Peterson had done. He wished them both happiness in their new location.

St. Andrew's Guild Elects New Officers At Meeting

Annual meeting of St. Andrew's Guild was held on January 20 in the parish hall, with Vice-president Mrs. J. J. Woods presiding in the absence of Mrs. Melville.

Various officers submitted their reports, which gave evidence of a most successful and active year.

Plans were made to hold a rummage sale in the parish hall on March 26 at 10 a.m. for the purpose of raising funds for improvements to the hall.

On behalf of himself and the Rev. C. F. Orman, Rev. F. C. Vaughan-Birch paid tribute to the members of the guild for their faithful work and loyal support throughout the year and thanked them in particular for the help they had given him since he assumed his duties as rector of the parish.

The rector took over the chair for the election of officers. The new slate is as follows: president, Mrs. J. J. Woods; vice-president, Mrs. D. Mitchell; secretary, Mrs. B. W. Andrews; treasurer, Mrs. F. J. Baker; Dorcas, Mrs. A. W. Holland; assistant Dorcas, Mrs. F. M. Sowden; visiting, Mrs. E. A. Bruce; altar convener, Mrs. J. N. Champion; linen, Mrs. J. H. Cummins; press, Mrs. D. S. Mitchell.

Following the meeting afternoon tea was enjoyed by all.

Two Recommended For Seats On Saanich School Board

Two Central Saanich residents have been recommended by Saanich School District for appointment to the school board. They are John Southern, of Beach Drive and Cuthbert Brown, of West Saanich Road. Both men reside in the Brentwood area.

The school district has recommended their appointment to the minister of education.

Mr. Southern is nominated for the two-year term left vacant by a lack of candidate in the place of P. S. Lomas, whose term reached a close in December. Mr. Brown would serve the remaining one year of Ernest Lee's unexpired term.

The minister will announce his

Salt Spring To Get Fire Hall

Salt Spring Island centennial committee last week sent notices to all those who had contributed to the Centennial Permanent Project that a special meeting would be held in Mahon Hall, Ganges, prior to the annual Chamber of Commerce meeting, to consider the feasibility of turning over the unfinished centennial museum and library to the trustees of the Salt Spring Island Fire Protection District for use as a fire hall, to be called the Salt Spring Island Centennial Fire Hall.

It was suggested in the notices that the balance of centennial funds on hand, about $1,700 be shared by the fire protection district and the library, on a basis to be agreed upon.

Trustees of the fire protection district have asked the centennial committee and native sons to consider this matter. The centennial committee are in favor of the proposal as a practical solution to the problem, providing all persons on the island who had contributed be given the opportunity at a special meeting to express their opinion.

decision shortly. This procedure of appointment is made when the section of a school district fails to name a candidate for election at the time of municipal elections.

Both former trustees are also Brentwood men.

Hans Gruber To Conduct School Band

A concert by the North Saanich high school band, conducted by Hans Gruber of Victoria Symphony Orchestra, is being sponsored next week by the Salt Spring Island Parent-Teacher Association.

President Mrs. Sober stated the 49-piece band will stage the concert in Mahon Hall on February 5. Included will be numbers of baton twirling, a modern dance duet, comedy combo, and a monologue. Arrangements to host and billet the group will be made by a committee including Mesdames M. Sober, J. Green, A. Quesnel and M. Fellows.

David Hillis Is Chosen As Student Of The Month Here

David Hillis, North Saanich high school student and the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Hillis, of Patricia Bay, was chosen student of the month for December.

David was entertained at the weekly dinner of Sidney Rotary Club last Wednesday evening and was presented with a plaque by Harold Dawson to mark his selection.

The student of the month is sponsored by the rotarians. The choice is made on the basis of academic, recreational, athletic and social ability. The student is assessed by the four-way test of Rotary and the

They Set The Type To Set The Pace

Winnipeg Is Distant And So is Aberdeen

Winnipeg is a long way east. Scotland is further and that part of his nostalgic memories not tied up with Winnipeg are across the Atlantic, for Albert Alexander Cormack is a canny Scot.

Mr. Cormack can no longer count on his fingers and toes the number of years he has spent in Canada. The Highlands of Scotland, he hails from Aberdeen, may have been bleak at times, but Winnipeg was more so. He came to Canada with his parents while a boy and was originally educated for the church. Later he abandoned his plans and became a printer. He has also worked as reporter and sports promoter.

When Sidney was growing and new staff was needed in the operation of The Review his former colleague, W. J. Wakefield called him west. Al Cormack came a-running with his wife and family and has made his home in Sidney ever since.

In addition to his association with

The Review, he has also served as a village commissioner and is currently president of Sidney Ratepayers' Association. He was closely identified with the early efforts to build a community hall here and has taken part in many other community activities.

PREFERS TO SIT AND SET

For many years he was foreman of the shop, but relinquished the duties to Mr. Wakefield when the pressure threatened his health. Ideally he prefers to sit at his machine and turn out innumerable galleys of type, but he is still to be found, on occasion, at the stone, making up jobs for the firm's customers.

In the picture above Mr. Cormack is seen correcting a stoppage on his Linotype machine. He spends more time using it than he does repairing it. Each matrix seen on the distributor represents a letter or a figure and is selected on the keyboard. When the line is set by running molten lead into the matrices they are lifted to the bar in the top of the picture and a lead screw carries them back to the slot from which they came.

This machine is used for setting type most of its working day. It is employed for job printing only where the finished job requires lines of type in the same manner as a newspaper.

Although not customarily engaged in so doing, the canny Scotsman can prepare a print job, set it up in type and run it off on a press. He is too busy to make a habit of undertaking every phase of the operation. Mr. Cormack is treasurer of the company.

Clinic Is Held At Fourth St.

Arthritis and Rheumatism clinic in Sidney is held weekly at the Health Centre on Fourth St. Last week The Review was in error when it was stated that the clinic would be located at Rest Haven Hospital.

The physiotherapeutic treatment of sufferers from the crippling disease has not been held at Rest Haven Hospital for a number of years.

Residents of the district who suffer pains or aches in the joints are urged by the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society to communicate with their family doctors in order to gain treatment as early as possible.

Sidney clinic is sponsored by the North Saanich Health Council which was responsible for making the arrangements whereby it was established here.

Local representative Mrs. J. N. Champion is a member of the health council.

One of the aims of World Refugee Year is to encourage governments to liberalize immigration laws and regulations. New citizens are new assets. In Canada thousands of "immigrants" are buying groceries and television sets, are going to the movies and eating in restaurants and sending their laundry out. The thousands of new customers mean more business for all of us.

Former Carriage Builder At Fulford Is Called By Death

A well known resident of Fulford passed away on January 20, in Victoria, George Herbert Laundry. He leaves his wife, Elizabeth, residing at home. Two daughters, Miss Irene and Mrs. (Jean) P. De Costa; two sons, Alfred and George, all of Victoria. A brother, Franklin, of Peterborough, Ont., and a sister in Victoria, Mrs. E. LeBus. There are nine grandchildren.

Born in Bancroft, Ont., Mr. Laundry served his apprenticeship as a carriage builder and cabinet maker. He was best known for his excellent workmanship in construction of log cabins.

He spent 53 years in British Columbia and 22 years on Salt Spring Island, arriving at Musgrave in 1911, where he owned a homestead. He moved to Fulford in 1938, where his family still resides.

He was a veteran of the Boer War, and a member of the Masonic Lodge at Madoc, Ont. and Ganges, B.C.

A combined funeral service was held at St. Mary's Church at Fulford on Saturday, Jan. 23, where the lodge officiated at the Masonic rites, and Ven. Archdeacon G. H. Holmes conducted the church service. Mrs.

ing at the home of Lt.-Cmdr. J. W. C. Barclay on January 23. Scoutmaster S. Lord reported to the committee that the troop which now has 17 boys, was split into four patrols.

This will enable the troop to expand by 50 per cent, without further reorganization. The four patrols have been named Night Hawks, Beavers, Eagles and Owls and the leaders are Eric Donald, George Graham, Richard Abbott and Ronald Stewart.

On January 13, the following 12 recruits were invested as Tenderfoot Scouts before an interested gathering of parents.

Brian Bennett, Bruce Bennett, Ian Campbell, Timothy Campbell, Andrew Donald, Honor Foster, Michael Graham, Gregory Knowland, David Laird, William Laird, Patrick Lannon and Ian Stewart. This investiture of 12 recruits is quite an achievement and shows the flourishing state of scouting in Deep Cove.

Cubmaster R. McLennan reported the strength of pack "A" as 2 boys with four new claims to be invested at the next meeting.

Cubmaster W. Stewart reported that pack "D" has 23 boys. New claim Douglas Laird was invested during the month. Mr. Stewart has been asked by H.Q. Victoria to act as instructor of a course to be set up for new enthusiasts.

During the Christmas holidays 17 boys of pack "B" enjoyed a visit to "Penland".

Deep Gratitude

Mr. and Mrs. Wally Rogers, who recently lost all their possessions in a disastrous house fire, have taken up residence with Jack McCall and Donna Plouffe at their home on Robinson Road. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rogers wish to express their deepest gratitude for the helping hand extended to them by Salt Spring Island.

"Words fail us," they said, "to properly thank all those who so quickly offered assistance." Although Mr. and Mrs. Rogers had been thinking of selling because of health reasons, they have made up their minds to resettle here on more suitable property.

New Sea Scout Troop Formed

Sea Scout troop on Salt Spring Island was organized last week when members of the Boy Scout group committee met with Cub parents in the Legion Hall at Ganges.

J. W. A. Green acted as chairman for the meeting. Arrangements were made for weekly meetings, every Wednesday, in the United Church hall at Ganges. The regular Boy Scout program will be followed with special emphasis on seamanship. Two members of the R.C.M.P. patrol boat based at Ganges will be in charge, and when they are not available two local persons will "pinch-hit" for them.

Boys from 11½ to 14 years may join. The local Canadian Legion sponsors the Scout Group.

MRS. WEBB HEADS ARMY AND NAVY LADIES' GROUP

General meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to Sidney Unit, A.N. and A.F., was held recently in the club-rooms. Guest at the meeting was Mrs. S. King, of Steveston, B.C. provincial president.

The following members were elected to office: president, Mrs. E. Webb; first vice-president, Mrs. L. Scantlebury; second vice-president, Mrs. K. Waters; secretary, Mrs. A. Scott; treasurer, Mrs. B. Plumbly; executive, Mrs. B. Smith, Mrs. M. Wood, Mrs. G. Ekhart, Mrs. R. Hale. Committee chairmen are: finance, Mrs. Wood; sick visiting and relief, Mrs. Plumbly; entertainment, Mrs. Webb; membership, Mrs. Smith; publicity, Mrs. M. Bennett.

The new officers were installed by the provincial president and a gift was presented to her by Mrs. Webb, on behalf of the members.

Members from the Victoria Unit were among the visitors. Tea and refreshments were served by the Sidney ladies.

Three new members were welcomed, Mrs. Plumbly, Mrs. B. Cherry and Mrs. Hale.

W. Palmer officiated at the organ and the hymns, "Unto the Hills" and "Abide With Me" were sung. Many flowers paid tribute to the memory of the deceased as the church was crowded with friends and relations.

The pall bearers were William Lock, of Sooke; Gordon Ruckie, W. D. Patterson, Irl Bradley, L. F. Nicholson and W. Byers.

Chaplin's Funeral Parlor was in charge of arrangements. Interment followed in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Drivers Do Have Conscience

Some drivers have consciences. Several weeks ago N. T. Wright, Sidney businessman, enjoyed a meal in a Victoria restaurant. Upon his leaving the establishment he was concerned to find that another car had scored the side of his own.

There was no indication on the car park of the identity of the driver concerned.

The Sidney man was annoyed but the incident went to the back of his mind.

Last week he was reminded of it again. He received a registered letter carrying no indication of its source. Within was enclosed a $20 bill and a brief letter.

"Dear Sir," he read, "I trust this will defray any expenses incurred when I bumped your car in the (named) car park. Yours truly, A. Driver."

They Share Concern Of Kelowna

Dissatisfaction felt by trustees of Kelowna School District over the system of training student counsellors is shared in principle by the board of Saanich School District.

On Monday evening trustees received a letter from Kelowna School District asking support of a resolution to the B.C. School Trustees' Association in their plea for better training for counsellors.

The board reserved its endorsement of the plea, but supported it in principle.

School Superintendent F. A. McLellan agreed that in some smaller districts there was a lack of training. In Vancouver, he suggested, the standards were as high as those in most cities of the United States.

The trustees here decided to seek more information.

Careless Driver

Donald Francis Greene, of Sidney, was charged as a minor with possession of liquor and fined $20 plus $5 costs in Sidney police court.

A fine of $20 and $5.50 cost was imposed on Sidney Robert Salmon from Victoria who was charged with careless driving.

Charged with intoxication on an Indian Reserve, Vincent Sylvester, whose case was transferred was fined $10 plus $6.50 cost in Victoria.

PUBLIC MEETING

A Public Meeting will be held at SANSCHA Hall on Monday, Feb. 1st, at 7.30 p.m., for the purpose of giving the Annual Report of the Sidney Recreation Commission, and to discuss future activities.
